

2011 Volunteer Form

Epcot International Flower & Garden Festival

THE ART OF LIVING GREEN

The 2011 Epcot International Flower & Garden Festival promises to be another exceptional event and another exceptional opportunity for FNGLA to showcase the industry and Florida's gardening offerings. In FNGLA's 13th year of participation, the FNGLA garden will once again utilize the Tuscan theme. The garden will be strikingly similar to last year's garden as last year's was a huge area of interest for festival attendees. Notable differences will include a loquat grove in place of an olive grove; several fruiting olive trees; and considerable more color throughout the garden. The farm house, citrus grove, vertical garden and the focus on sustainable education will remain vital elements of the garden area. This garden will literally have something for everyone; from passionate gardener to even those with the most minimal of gardening interests!

The 2011 Epcot International Flower & Garden Festival will kick-off its opening day celebration just as Spring makes its seasonal entrance, March 2. The festival will run for its regular 10 1/2-week duration and will close on Sunday, May 15. While FNGLA sees great value in educating the gardening consumers of tomorrow, we also are looking to ramp up enthusiasm today—and help create a demand for Florida's products. By completing this form, you agree to follow Disney's dress and behavior guidelines. Noncompliance will result in volunteers being asked to leave the premises.

Are you interested in volunteering to host the display?

1. Spend a day at Epcot®.
2. Earn two FNGLA Certified Industry Professional CEUs (if certified).
3. Expand your knowledge of plant material.
4. Interact with thousands of consumers; 2.4 million expected to visit during the 10 1/2-week Festival.
